

Terms and Conditions

Disclaimer

The information contained on this website (including any case studies, surveys, articles or reports) is compiled and/or made available in good faith. All reasonable efforts have been made to ensure that it is accurate and up to date. Design in Mental Health Ltd does not accept any legal responsibility for any omissions or errors on the site. Whilst Design in Mental Health Ltd makes every effort to vet external sites, it does not endorse or accept responsibility for any external sites that may be linked to or from this site.

Privacy

This site is designed for both members and non-members of the Design in Mental Health Network. Some areas of the site are only accessible to current members and to authorised individuals who must be registered to use the site.

Design in Mental Health Ltd has a firm commitment to privacy, data protection and the requirements of the General Data Protection Regulation (2018).

Data Protection

The details you have provided here will be used to deal with your enquiry and/or to send you more information about the Design in Mental Health Network. Your information will be kept strictly confidential and will not be sold, rented, loaned or otherwise disclosed to any third parties.

If no further processing is required, we will hold your details until you cease to be a member of the Design in Mental Health Network or until you request their removal from our database.

Security and Data

Design in Mental Health Network Ltd endeavours to ensure that it has the essential security measures in place to protect any information in our control, to prevent its loss, misuse or alteration and to comply with the provision of the General Data Protection Regulation (2018).

Users can change account registration details previously supplied to Design in Mental Health Network Ltd by emailing admin@dimhn.org

Agreement

Use of this site constitutes an acceptance of these Terms & Conditions. By accessing the Members' Area content, members also agree to abide by the rules.

Design in Mental Health Network - Safeguarding policy

Any person undertaking activity by or on behalf of the Design in Mental Health Network (DIMHN) must protect DIMHN's beneficiaries, officers, staff, volunteers and any person connected with the activity from harm.

This includes, but is not limited to, the statutory responsibility towards children below the age of 18 and vulnerable adults aged 18 and over. The DIMHN board will manage this in accordance with the Charity Commission's 2017 policy paper 'Strategy for dealing with safeguarding issues in charities' as updated.

Any board member may be approached by any person to raise a concern, issue or complaint, and must act to ensure the situation is made safe, reported on and followed up. The named Safeguarding Lead is the current chair of the board who is Jenny Gill and may be contacted at jgill@dimhn.org

Dated: 25 March 2019